"She would be a pretty girl for but one thing."

"What's that?" asked Charley.
George—Her face is always covered with purple and red blotchas.

Charley—Oh, that's easily enough disposed of. Used to be the same way myself, but I caught on to the trouble one day, and got rid of it in no time.
George—What was it?
Charley—Simply blood cruptions. Took a short course of P. P. P. I tell you, it's the boss blood corrector. The governor had rheumatism so bad that you could

A meeting of Robert Morris lodge of True Ivorites which is being organized on this side, was held last evening in the Welsh Philosophical society rooms on South Main avenue. John H. Phillips president as temporary chair-Interesting talks on the objects of the society were given by Grand Treasurer Henry P. Davis, Grand Secretary D. P. Thomas, of Providence, and Past President Benjamin Hughes, During the remarks by these gentle men, it was stated that the True Order of Iverites was organized in Wales in 1836, and in America in 1863. Then followed a history on the Ivorites and many 'remarks of interest to the members of the new order were made by the speakers. Joseph Reynolds also spoke interestingly. It was announced that the order would be in tituted in Clark's hall on South Main wenne on Monday evening next, and all members were requested to be pres-

Richards-Evans Wedding. John Richards, of Hampton street, ano Miss Mary Evans, of Washburn street, were united in marriage last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The house was brill-iantly illuminated and fragrant flowers were artistically arranged about the parlor. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Jones, of the First Welsh Baptist church, in the presence of a large number of friends. The young couple will go to house-keeping on this side, where they have many friends. After the ceremony an excellent supper was served.

Arresetd for Stealing Thomas Daly, a young lad residing on Grant avenue, was arrested yester-day afternoon on a warrant issued by Thomas L. Phillips, a Jackson street grocer. Daly entered Mr. Paillips' store on a pretext of buying goods, but when the store-keepers back was turned he stole a quantity of cigars. He was detected and handed over to the police.

He Abused the Officers. Simon Schoen, an ice dealer who resides on Frink street, was arrested yes terday afternoon at the corner of Jack son street and Main avenue, for being drunk and disorderly. Schoen saw Of ficers Moir and Matthews on the sidewalk and began to abuse them. He was placed in the station house.

FIRE IN THE COURT HOUSE,

That's What Watchman Stableber Thought, But He Was Mistaken. About 9 o'clock last night Jacob stableber, the night watchman at the court house, detected a peculiar smell in the main corridor.

He sniffed the air and satisfied himelf that something was burning.
Whatever it was that burned it pread an odor quite as enervating as Hewitt's bonery on a warm day.

The watchman thought a heap of rubbish was smouldering and rushed to the basement, but there the odor was not discernible. He returned to the main corridor and again the disagreeable odor assailed him. He determined to find the cause and discovered that the odor emanated from rell Known Welshmen Gave Interesting Talks on the Objects of the True in and found Court Messenger Newton calmly smoking a cigar and puffing great clouds of smoke upwards that sent forth suggestive olors of burning rubber.

That explained the mystery. Newton was engaged in smoking s cigar with a thin gutta percha core which Deputy Sheriff Craig prepared for the benefit of Recorder of Deeds Healey. That gentleman, not know ing it was loaded, gave the cigar #to Watchman Stahleber, who in turn handed it to Mr. Newton. The latter did not realize what a vile thing he was smoking until his attention was mediately afterward [through an open window and the watchman set to work to banish the odor.

FUNERAL OF THOMAS R. JAMES

Finding of the Coroner's Inquest in Himself - South Side Quota of Model Jurymen.

The funeral of the late Thomas R. James took place yesterday afternoon and it was very largely attended. Services were held in the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and were conducted by Rev. Mr. Santee. Interment was in the Dunmore cemetery. called to it. The cigar disappeared im- The flower bearers were M. J.Dampsey and D. J. Clearwater, and the pall bear-ers were James Shoston, Alexander Moseley, Joseph L. Roberts and A. C.

An inquest to inquire into the cause of Mr. James' death was held in one of the front parlors of Mr. Corcoran's hotel on Cedar avenue Monday night. In the absence of the coroner from the city on Sunday, Alderman John E. O'Malley empanelled a jury. O'Malley's official position warranted such actions, although personally, he was opposed to such proceedings. The dead man's neighbors, how-ever, insisted, and Mr. O'Mulley ap-pointed the following jurors: M. J. Lovern, foreman; Patrick Corcoran James Clare, Frank Sleppy, Albert C. Myers and Albert A. Hewitt. The fol-lowing witnesses were sworn: Thomas M. Jones, D. J. Clearwater, David A. Davis, M. J. Dempsey and Mrs. Thomas R. James. The verdict was in ac-cordance with the facts in the case that have already been published.

Fred Young of Brook Street. As a Tribune reporter was standing at Brook street and Pittston avenue yesterday waiting for a car, Fred Young, the popular cigar maker, approsched him, breathless from exertion and anxiety. He thus addressed the reporter: "I am in no end of trouble and all on account of that scoundrel who imposed on Rev. Mr. Holter and passed himself as Fred Young, There is only one Fred Young in the directory and many people imagine that I am the guilty person. That scamp's name was not Young, but Huber, and it was the latter name he signed to the order on the Dickson company, where he was employed." The reporter promised to set the matter right and Mr. Young felt much relieved. The latter gentleman is one of the most respected citi-zens in the Twentieth ward.

Shorter Paragraphs. Among the South Siders doing jury inty this week are Stephen Judge, F. McDonnell, Frank Mellody, Martin Cusick and John Scheuer, jr. They make model jurors, being men of more than ordinary intelligence and discernment. The funeral of Harry Dalton will ake place this afternoon, Mrs. Dalton's sister, of Susquehanna, is visiting Mrs. Dalton during her affliction, James Manley, of the special commit-tee of councils on the bridge question, stated last evening that president

DUNMORE.

A never failing object of interest is the small locomotive, used for awitching purposes about the Eric and Wy oming Valley's No. 6 yard. Its appearance as it passes back and forth at the head of one or more cars which are double its size never fails to attract at-tention. It is the extraordinary power encompassed in so small a piece of mechanism that usually calls forth so much comment The secret of its power lies in the fact that where ordinary locomotives have but two direct cylinders this one has three. A few years ago when the first passenger train was bought by the company and received at Lackawanna and Bloomsburg junction one of these remarkable little locomotives was used to haul the train and a small officials car from that place to Dunmore. The train consisted of coach and baggage car, and when taking into consideration the weight of the engine, which is twelve tons, and the size of the cylinders, 8 by 12, and the heavy grade where a large passenger engine can only handle a few cars, it was a wonderful performance. Ba-fore the start was made the safety valves were screwed down until a steam pressure of 160 pounds was ob-tained, and with Superintendent George B. Smith at the throttle the train was taken through to Dunmuch to the surprise of the old veteran railroaders who witnessed the per-formance. These locomotives were built for use on the old gravity road and on the patent of the company's president, John B. Smith. They have since been engaged for use on standard guage and today remain to awaken memories of the halycou day of the old gravity when the whirl of the plane pulley wheels as the steel rope glided over them and the metallic rumble of the long lines of coal cars reverberated through the recesses of the Moosic
